

Avalara

Avalara

Safe harbor statement

This information is Avalara's confidential information. Materials are solely for use in this context and are not approved for further distribution. This document describes Avalara's intentions as of the date of drafting and may include descriptions of product functionality or technology that are not currently available. Avalara reserves the right to change the functionality, release dates, technology, initiatives, and plans described herein without notice or duty to update.

Finding answers to your most challenging tax questions

Dan Krenecki
Sr. Manager, Customer/Technical Training

Meet your presenter

Dan Krenecki

Sr. Manager,
Customer/Technical Training

Avalara

Dan Krenecki is a Sr. Manager, Customer/Technical Training at Avalara working directly with customers on how to use the ATR solution they've purchased. In this role, Dan trains customers on how to use the tool for their business as well as internal SE and CAM teams here at Avalara on how to present and use the ATR website and where to find answers to complex tax questions. He has been with TTR/Avalara for 10 years.

Agenda

- 1 > Welcome
- 2 > Options for finding answers to tax questions
 - > State Department of Revenue (DoR) websites and agents
 - > Internet searches – the power and limitations
 - > Consultants – when to engage them
 - > Tax content database – how to choose and use one
- 3 > Q&A

Options for finding answers
to tax questions

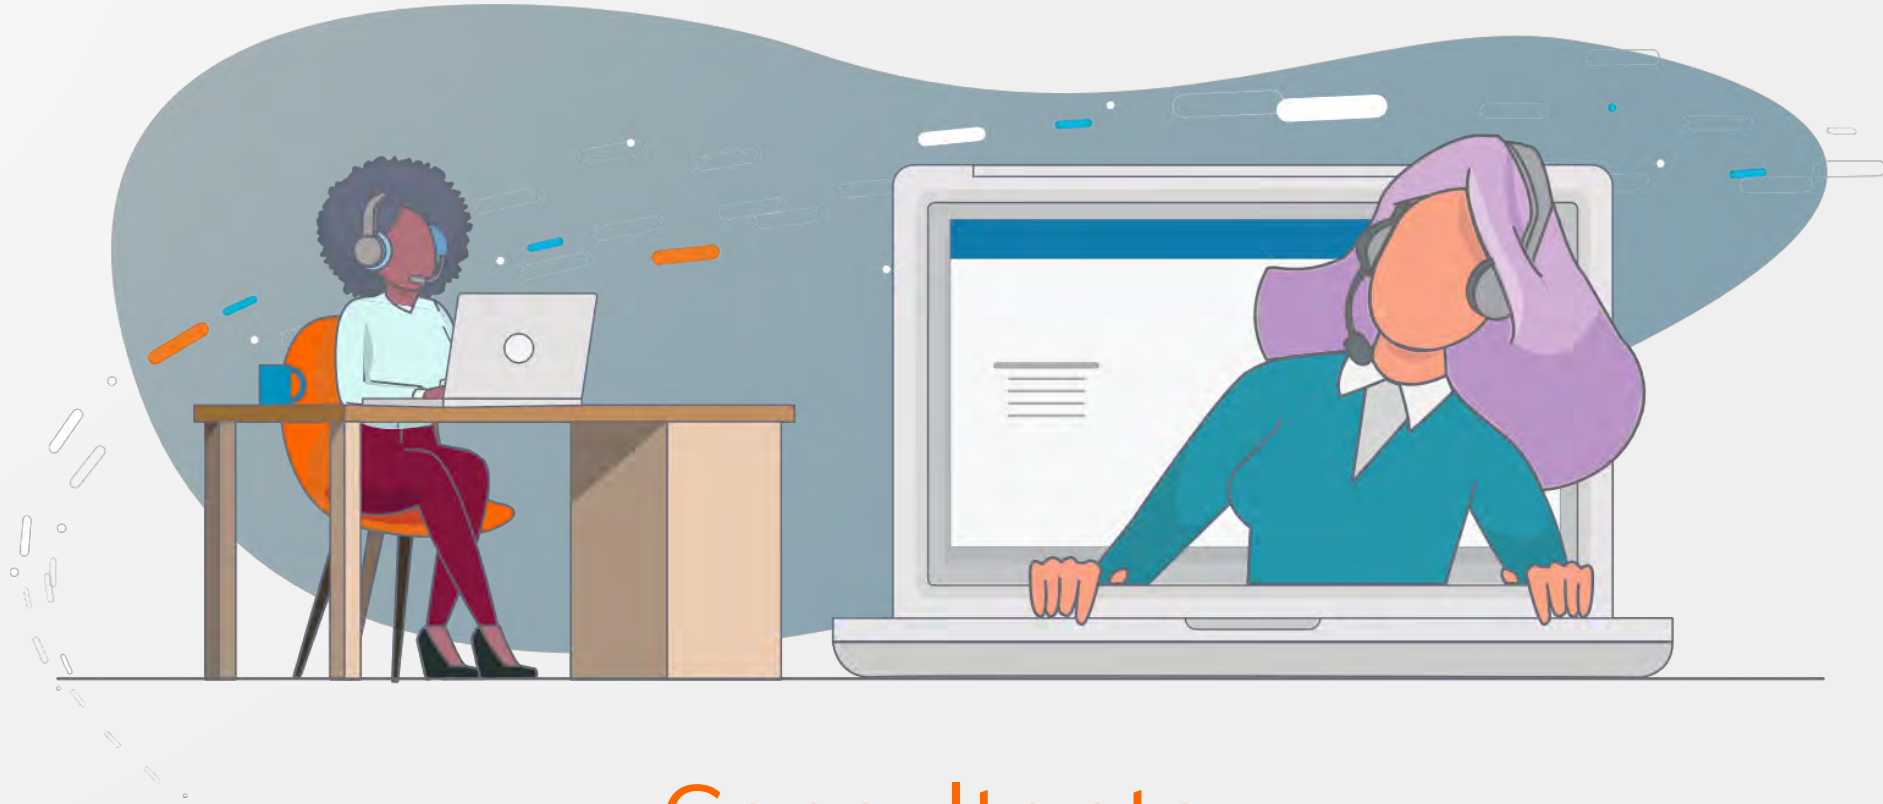

State Department of Revenue (DoR) websites and agents

How can I utilize the DoR sites? Who do I reach out to?

Internet searches – the power and limitations

Can we just Google it?

Consultants – when to engage them

What kind of consultant should I bring in? How much do they cost?

Tax content database – How to choose and use one

What are my options for content databases? How accurate are they?

Examples

Nexus, Product Taxability, Remote Workforces

Q&A

Avalara

Tax compliance done right